

Arrest Reports & Correspondence by Wilson Reyes: Dec. 3, 2009

Background: Without the arrest reports posted below, a casual reader might find the notion of the U.S. Consulate's orchestration of the entire kidnapping and illegal deportation of Gregory James Caton . . . well . . . conspiratorial. Caton's counsel obtained these reports by sheer surrendipity, and their release is most decidedly unwelcome to the perpetrators.

Throughout the entire legal process, Capt. Wilson Reyes – whose allegiance supposedly rests with the Republic of Ecuador, its laws and courts – was present with another U.S. Consulate representative who refused to give his name, even when asked by Caton at the time he was presented paperwork stating that his U.S. passport had been revoked. The fact that the documents below were issued only hours after Caton was transported to Guayaquil from Cuenca indicates the high degree of involvement of U.S. government operatives. It also indicates that Reyes – who has his own office inside the Consulate – has a clear conflict of interest.

Note that the second document clearly indicates that there is NO evidence of a crime against the Defendant. What it is indicated is that apprehension – which mimics the language of the original arrest warrant – is based on an “investigation.”

The statement is completely fraudulent. There never was, nor was there subsequently, any investigation. This was such a cover.

Note also that the second document indicates that the Defendant was attended to by a physician. This, too, is completely fabricated. It never happened.

Lastly, also on Dec. 3, 2009, are included below two additional letters to colleagues, announcing the success of the arrest of the Defendant “for the criminal charge of investigation.” You can't make this up.

What follows are the reports and correspondence, drafted in Spanish, followed by its English translation.
